- 594 DON BRADMAN'S BAT USED IN BOTH INNINGS OF THE FIRST TEST MATCH AT NOTTINGHAM, 1934:
 A "Sykes - Don Bradman Autograph" full size Cricket Bat, signed and inscribed,
"This bat was used by me in the first test match between Eng v Australia at Nottingham 1934".
 Also endorsed "To D.L.Cromb with very best wishes for a happy birthday from Don Bradman 17.8.34".
 Additionally, signed by both the England and Australian teams, 29 signatures including Bill Woodfull, Don Bradman, Bill Ponsford, R.E.S.Wyatt, Walter Hammond & Herbert Sutcliffe.
 The bat is in superb condition, having been carefully stored and presented some years later by David Cromb to his young, cricket-loving neighbour, the current vendor who lives in Canada.
 ["The Bradman Albums" report: "DON BRADMAN contributed less than usual to a convincing Australian victory. In the first innings, he went in six minutes before lunch on the first day, at 88 for 1, and hit 11 runs by lunch-time; after the interval, he continued to force the pace rather hectically, hitting six fours in twenty-nine minutes before being caught at slip. Spectacular as his innings was, it was a surprise on the first day of a Test Match; he was out at 125 for 3. His second innings was equally spectacular, and included some brilliant strokes as well as some rather eccentric ones;
 he went in at 32 for 2 on the third afternoon, at a time when Australia, 106 runs ahead on the first innings, needed runs quickly before declaring, and made 21 in thirty-one minutes before the tea interval. He batted rather more soberly for sixteen minutes thereafter, before being caught at the wicket at 69 for 3.]
 An opportunity to acquire a unique bat, one actually used by Don Bradman in a Test Match, undoubtedly, the most important single piece of cricketing history it has been our privilege to offer.
