

Dear Friends & Collectors,

If this is the first time you have seen one of our auction catalogues, you might get the wrong idea. You might think that there is no shortage of superb sporting memorabilia, scarce autographed items, rare books, early photographs, advertising posters and all sorts of collectibles. But, of course, you'd be wrong.

Putting together a catalogue of this size, range and quality is not easy, and not something that happens automatically. After years of marketing experience, research, travel, discussing vendors' needs and many thousands of satisfied customers, Charles Leski Auctions is now a market leader in these fields, and sellers are eager for us to include their material in our catalogues. We conduct 22 public auctions per year (and 4 postal bid only sales), offering everything from stamps and coins to wine, art and cameras, and to the extent possible, we like to offer material in appropriate groups so every catalogue is different.

This catalogue, for example, contains a magnificent offering of CRICKET memorabilia – not just the two outstanding cricket bats (The “Golden Age” bat – Lot 226 and the “Don Bradman Test Match Used” bat – Lot 273), but also a remarkable range of cricket team sheets and autograph pages, the entire Rick Darling collection, including his “Baggy Green” (Lot 206) and “Baggy Yellow” (Lot 207), many other items of clothing and equipment used by Australian First Class cricketers, signed books, cigarette and trade cards and much more. You might think there's no shortage of cricket memorabilia but you'd be wrong. This is an exceptional opportunity! So many of the “stars” are here, from W.G.Grace (Lot 233), Victor Trumper (Lot 244), Arthur Mailey (Lot 276), Bill Ponsford (Lot 275), Don Bradman (Lot 304), Keith Miller (Lot 330), Peter Sleep (Lot 375), Kim Hughes (Lot 395), Damien Martyn (Lot 408), Shaun Pollock (Lot 416), Shane Warne (Lot 418), Jack Ryder (Lot 470), Bert Oldfield (Lot 475), Len Hutton (Lot 481), Alec Bedser (Lot 493) and Ian Chappell (Lot 504) to Steve Waugh and Mark Taylor (Lot 583).

In fact, each section of this catalogue offers you the chance to own items of rarity, beauty, historical importance or just something you'll be proud to own and pass on to future generations: a photograph signed by Charles & Diana (Lot 24), Louis “Satchmo” Armstrong (Lot 27), Charles Dickens (Lot 31), Nellie Melba (Lot 44) or Tiger Woods (Lot 56) feature in our section of AUTOGRAPHS. And I haven't even mentioned Elvis Presley (Lot 49), Babe Ruth (Lot 50) and Michael Jordan (Lot 60) because you are probably already having trouble deciding what to choose.

The section of BOOKS & PRINTED EPHEMERA features a number of early publications to do with AUSTRALIA including an Australian Almanack for 1829 (Lot 64), a report on the gold fields of Victoria (Lot 82), the death sentence notice for a member of “Captain Moonlights” gang of bushrangers (Lot 83), a range of car manuals and early sales brochures. The BOXING section starts off with a wonderful signed photo of Muhammad Ali and Ken Norton (Lot 167), the AUSTRALIAN RULES FOOTBALL section features the bronzed boots of footy icon, Gary Ablett – the actual boots he wore when he kicked the all-time record 14 goals at the MCG (Lot 638) as well as some extremely scarce complete year sets of “Football Records” (Lots 681 to 704), the RUGBY UNION group features a rare piece from the 1888 New Zealand Native Football Team (Lot 713) and the itinerary card for the 1895 Victorian Team visit to New South Wales (Lot 714).

For the Formula One fan, you might like to consider Mark Webber's Benetton Racing suit (Lot 735) or if the “sport of kings”, horse racing, is more to your taste, you can't go past the solid silver 1829 Guernsey Races Cup presented by King George IV (Lot 736) which combines history, beautiful artwork, sport and rarity in one magnificent piece.

With the Commonwealth Games in Melbourne just around the corner, the group of original Olympic Games torches (Lots 804, 812 and 814) will remind you how much Australia loves athletics and swimming and the range of early Australian photographs and maps will remind you what this great country used to look like.

We love our “work” and we trust you will find something in this catalogue that you'll love,

The Team at Leski Auctions – September 2005

AUTOGRAPHS

- 19 WONDERFUL PAIR OF VISITING BOOKS, ex The Lady Mayoress of Melbourne (Lady Hennessy), covering the period 1914-17, in two richly bound and fine condition gold-embossed large folio morocco bindings. A veritable panalopy of Melbourne's elite of this exciting era, when Melbourne was the seat of Federal Parliament, including many important local people and visitors. Feature entries among the approx 2500 signatures and home addresses are Sir Henry Parkes - Australia's founding father, Alfred Deakin - Australia's first Prime Minister (several times), Duke Kahounamoku and his 12 member entourage from Hawaii and the Manly Life Saving Club (Duke famously brought surfing to Australia during this visit, and was the Olympic gold medal champion in 100m swimming at the 1912 Olympic Games). Others include many members of Parliament, many military figures including visiting Captains and Admirals from Japanese warships, poignantly Mrs John Monash (several times, whilst General Monash was overseas), Captain Walter Thring (the architect of Australia's Naval Defence in this era); many racing identities (Bagot, Byron, Moore, J.J.Liston); all the leading luminaries from Melbourne University (Baldwin Spencer, Masson, Sugden, McInerney). Female notables - Vida Goldstein, Misses Betty & Esther Patterson and Louise Mack. Of interest is the typical street address of Melbourne's wealthy, which was simply the house name and street. Above gleaned from a brief perusal - a rich source for research and interest from a time of solidity but great change in Australian history. (Photo) $2,000 - $2,500

- 48 ^{DC} Captain LAWRENCE EDWARD GRACE OATES: March 1902 autograph letter and cover written by OATES [1880-1912], Antarctic Explorer, who was later to sacrifice himself in a blizzard during the fatal Scott Expedition.
[Extract from Scott's diary: "He slept through the night before last hoping not to wake - but he woke in the morning. It was blowing a hard blizzard. He said, "I am just going outside and may be some time. " We knew he was going to his death but nothing we could say would dissuade him. We knew it was the act of a brave man and an English gentleman."
 During the Boer War, Oates served in Rimington's Column, a division of the 6th Dragoons and was promoted to Lieutenant in Feb.1902. He had arrived in South Africa in January 1901 and was severely wounded in the leg two months later. Oates was invalided home but returned to his regiment at the end of 1901.]

CRICKETRICK DARLINGborn:* 1 May 1957

Right-Hand Batsman

A dashing but reluctant opening batsman, Rick Darling represented Australia during the WSC era and was unlucky not to revive his Test career afterwards. A great-nephew of Joe Darling, Rick Darlings quick reflexes and array of shots marked him as an Australian player from his first-class debut at the age of 18 in 1985/76. He made his Test debut for Australia, opening the batting on his home ground, the Adelaide Oval, in the Fifth Test against India in 1977/78 and impressed with scores of 65 and 56. He scored his highest Test score, a subdued 91, against England in the following summer. A nervous beginner, Darling was a courageous player against fast bowlers, and his batting featured some audacious hook shots. Attempting such a stroke at Adelaide in 1979, he was hit in the chest by English fast bowler Bob Willis and briefly stopped breathing when chewing gum lodged in his throat. Timely action by John Emburey resuscitated him. Despite this setback, Darling hooked Willis for six in the second innings. After tours to the West Indies and India, Darling lost his Test place when the Packer players returned. Darling was also an outstanding cover fieldsman. Although Darling topped the Australian averages in the 1981/82 season (1011 runs at 72) he was unable to regain his Test place, though he did appear in some Limited Overs Internationals. He was a member of two SA Shield-winning sides in 1975/76 and 1981/82. His interstate career ended prematurely after acrimonious disputes with SA captain David Hookes over his place in the SA batting order.

- 226 The "GOLDEN AGE CRICKET BAT":
A full size "Gradidge" Cricket Bat with an extraordinary range of 19th Century signatures. At Charles Leski Auctions we have had the pleasure of selling hundreds of signed cricket bats, many hundreds of team sheets, autograph pages, team photographs, cigarette and trade card sets, Baggy Greens, Baggy Yellows, blazers, postcards, and all other types of cricket memorabilia.
But when this bat arrived at our rooms with instructions that it should be auctioned, we knew we had come upon the greatest piece of cricket memorabilia it has yet been our privilege to handle. Neither we, nor the vendor, knows who the well-connected cricket player or enthusiast was, who carefully and methodically approached over 200 first class cricketers of the day and had them sign his cricket bat. The cream of English and Australian cricket in the 1890s is represented here – Grace and Trumper have both signed this bat, Spofforth and Rhodes, Ranji and Noble, Lord Hawke and Darling (Rick Darling's great uncle). In addition, the bat has been signed by several other notable sportsmen and public figures. Beautifully presented in a case which permits for viewing from all sides, this remarkable and precious bat truly documents the "golden age" of cricket and we are delighted to offer it here for auction.

["The Bradman Albums" report "DON BRADMAN contributed less than usual to a convincing Australian victory. In the first innings, he went in six minutes before lunch on the first day, at 88 for 1, and hit 11 runs by lunch-time; after the interval, he continued to force the pace rather hectically, hitting six fours in twenty-nine minutes before being caught at slip. Spectacular as his innings was, it was a surprise on the first day of a Test Match; he was out at 125 for 3. His second innings was equally spectacular, and included some brilliant strokes as well as some rather eccentric ones; he went in at 32 for 2 on the third afternoon, at a time when Australia, 106 runs ahead on the first innings, needed runs quickly before declaring, and made 21 in thirty-one minutes before the tea interval. He batted rather more soberly for sixteen minutes thereafter, before being caught at the wicket at 69 for 3.

A rare opportunity to acquire a unique bat, one actually used by Don Bradman in a Test Match. [A companion Bradman bat from this tour, also presented to D.L.Cromb, realised £25,000 plus commission in Christies London June 2003 Sale (at that time about $75,500)]. The bat is in superb condition. (Photo) $40,000 - $60,000
